

November Newsflutter

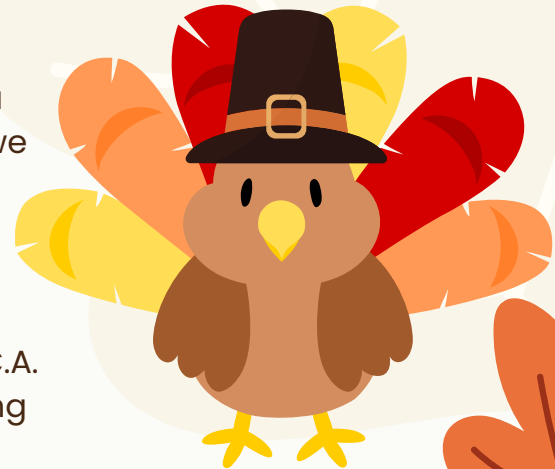

2024

Words from our Director

Sweet November is finally here! As the weather gets a little cooler, our hearts begin to reflect on the year and we are reminded of all our God's goodness.

Our little ones really enjoyed learning about different community helpers last month. We are grateful for our local police department, fire department, dentist, ambulance and doctor who came to visit us here at M.C.A.

I am praying that everyone will enjoy their Thanksgiving and continue to create beautiful memories.

Upcoming Events

November 1st: Country Fair

November 8th: Native Americans visit M.C.A

November 13th: Fall Picture Day

November 11-15: Veterans Day Celebrations Special Snack
Show & Tell My Veteran

November 22:
HEB Buddy Visits M.C.A
Thanksgiving Feast

November 25-29: NO SCHOOL

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Avery M. (1)
Ms. Delilah (3)
Vivienne S. (7)
Natalia G. (9)
Andres H. (13)
Ms. Sandy (13)
Samuel M. (16)
Ms. Kimmy (22)

5 Tips for BUILDING A RECIPROCAL RELATIONSHIP with Parents

Dedicate time to relationship building.

The time you take for relationship building is never time wasted.

Share something about yourself (within professional boundaries).

Relationship building in a professional context means that you are friendly with the caregiver but not entering into a friendship.

Be mindful of physical barriers and body positioning.

Minimize distractions that create a barrier between you and the caregiver.

Be responsive, collaborative, and reliable.

When problems arise, work together with the caregiver toward possible solutions.

Be respectful and compassionate.

You are a support to the family, and it is your job (not theirs) to meet them where they are.